What To Expect When You Move In

Moving into a new home can be a daunting experience, but at Response, we strive to make the process as smooth and stress-free as possible. When you move into one of our homes, you can expect a warm welcome and a range of support services to help you settle in.

All our homes are assessed using the Housing Health and Safety Rating System (HHSRS).

This is a risk-based evaluation tool used in England and Wales to assess potential hazards in residential properties. It focuses on identifying and minimizing risks to the health and safety of occupants, particularly vulnerable groups.

Your Rights as a Response Resident

We're committed to supporting you in a safe, respectful, and supportive environment. While the legal terms of your tenancy or licence may differ depending on the type of accommodation you're in, all residents have the following core rights:

You have the right to:

-  Feel safe, respected, and supported in your home.
-  Live in your home without interference, as long as you're keeping to your agreement.
-  Access housing and support services suited to your needs.
-  Be treated without discrimination.
-  Receive information about your rent, support, and housing responsibilities.
-  Report problems (e.g. repairs or concerns) and have them addressed appropriately.
-  Give feedback and make complaints, and to be listened to.
-  Be consulted about changes to your accommodation or services that affect you.

If you're ever unsure about your rights, your support worker or housing officer is here to help.

Your Responsibilities as a Response Resident

In supported accommodation, you're part of a shared environment where everyone's actions help create a home that feels safe and respectful for all. As a resident in our services, you will be responsible for the following:

In your home:

- Pay your rent and service charges regularly and on time (help is available if you're struggling).
- Keep your room and shared spaces clean and safe – staff can support you with this if needed
- Report any repairs or problems as soon as possible.
- Treat furniture and fixtures with care, and let staff know if anything breaks.
- Let us know if you'll be away from your accommodation for more than a few nights.

With others:

- Treat staff, residents, and visitors with respect.
- Avoid any behaviour that could cause nuisance or harm, including loud noise, drug use, harassment, or violence.
- Don't let others stay overnight unless this is agreed in advance.
- Don't share your key or allow anyone else to live in your home.

With your support agreement:

- Engage with your support plan and key worker as best you can – this helps us help you.
- Let us know if your needs change or you're not coping – there's no shame in asking for more help.

Damp and Mould

Damp and mould is a common issue in UK homes and can cause avoidable damage to properties. It can also pose a serious risk to your health. In this guide, we have included some advice to help you prevent damp and mould from growing in your home.

What is it?

- Damp is caused by excess moisture in the air or water getting into your home.
- Mould is a type of fungus that grows in damp places. It can appear as black or green patches on walls, ceilings, or around windows.

Repairs & Maintenance

Everyday Tips to Prevent Damp and Mould:

Let Air Flow

- Open windows for 10–15 minutes each day to let fresh air in and moisture out.
- Use extractor fans in kitchens and bathrooms, or open a window while cooking, showering, or bathing.
- Don't block air vents or cover radiators.

Keep Rooms Warm

- Try to keep your home at a steady, comfortable temperature – especially in colder months.
- Warm air holds moisture better and reduces condensation.

Dry Clothes Carefully

- Dry clothes outdoors if possible.
- If drying indoors, use a clothes airer in a well-ventilated room with the door closed and a window open.
- Avoid drying clothes on radiators, as this adds a lot of moisture to the air.

Use Lids on Pans When Cooking

- This helps reduce steam and moisture build-up in the kitchen.
- Turn on extractor fans or open a window when cooking.

Keep Furniture Slightly Away from Walls

- This allows air to circulate and prevents condensation forming behind large furniture like sofas and wardrobes.

What to Look Out For

Watch for signs like:

- A musty smell
- Cold or damp patches on walls or ceilings
- Peeling wallpaper or paint
- Black spots, especially around windows or in corners

If you notice any of these, report them to your Housing Support Worker or Property Services team as soon as possible.

Health and Safety

We take your safety seriously. Here's what we do to make sure your home is safe:

Response will...

We follow health and safety laws to make sure our buildings are safe and well looked after.

We check for fire risks in every property. This is called a Fire Risk Assessment, and we do it at least once a year (or more often if needed).

We check electrical systems (like plugs, wiring and lights) to make sure they are safe and don't cause fires or injuries.

We check gas appliances (like boilers and cookers) regularly to make sure they are safe and working properly.

You will...

In addition, you will also take the necessary steps to ensure your own health and safety is looked after.

Follow all fire safety and health & safety rules (e.g. no smoking indoors, no blocking exits).

Don't tamper with safety equipment (e.g. smoke alarms or fire doors).

Avoid bringing in anything dangerous (e.g. heaters, fireworks, or weapons).

Your Voice

Experts by Experience (EbE):

Experts by Experience are people we support who are involved in recruitment interviews, focus groups and research opportunities. We value people's voices, so these are compensated opportunities.

The Advisory Board:

This is a group of EbEs who support us with Policies, Procedures, and have direct involvement in the decisions made by the organisation. Their voices shape our services with advice and suggestions going directly to our Executive team.

Co-Production:

In Response, we are proud to introduce co-production values in everything we do. This is not tokenistic; it is central to what we do.

These roles are compensated at Oxford Living Wages and can provide a meaningful opportunity to develop skills and make your voice heard at Response.

Anyone accessing Response services that are aged 18 or over is free to join. Ask your support worker for more details, and a member of the engagement team will reach out to you.

Complaints

We take all feedback seriously.

If something hasn't gone right, please let us know. Your voice helps us make things better.. Most issues can be resolved quickly by talking with your support worker, project manager, or housing officer.

1. What is a complaint?

A complaint is when you're unhappy with the service, actions, or lack of action from Response. You can also complain on behalf of someone else.

2. What isn't a complaint?

Urgent complaints (like safeguarding or safety concerns) must be reported in other ways. Maintenance issues are dealt with through different processes.

3. How it works

Most issues can be resolved locally, quickly, and informally just by having a conversation. If not resolved, our Business support team logs your complaint, investigates it, and responds in a set timeframe.

4. How to raise a complaint

If you wish to make a complaint about the support or services you receive, please speak to your support worker, project manager or housing officer. If you'd prefer, you can also email us at complaints@response.org.uk or call 01865 397940.

Our Business Support team will listen, investigate fairly, and respond promptly. You can also ask for help with your complaint, such as advocacy or translation support.

5. Confidentiality & support

You can ask to stay anonymous, but this may limit how we can investigate. If you need help to complain (like translation or advocacy), Response can arrange this with services such as Pohwer.

6. What happens next?

We receive and log your complaint.
We investigate fairly and explain what we did and why.
If you're not happy with the outcome, there's a formal appeal process.
